Speaker Summaries

from the Summer School

Brother Dev Ramcharan – “He is our Brother and Flesh - A Life of Judah”

The development of a believer is not an easy process. Struggle, wrestling, failure and moments of crushing self-recognition help to shape who we become for God.

He takes us as we are, and walks beside us as we make and live with the consequences of our decisions and actions. Judah was not easy material to work with. He was stubborn, and wily.

Judah possessed an inherited capacity for cunning, subterfuge and misrepresentation, and through sheer force of will and devious articulation, could move his brothers in any direction he chose. His character as a young man was the opposite of the meaning of his name, but ‘Praise’ and faith would be hallmarks of the man Yahweh made of him.

His transformation required the crushing of his ego, the tormenting realization of the anguish he created for his bereaved father and the experience of cataclysmic personal failure as a father himself and as a believer.

Judah’s story functions, in so many ways, as a mirror for us to behold ourselves in, so that, seeing our reflection with stark clarity, we can change direction, and pull closer to God and the life of faith that we all need to be living, and can fail so miserably at achieving.

Brother Ken Styles – “God’s Wisdom in the Family Design”

In his series, bro Ken examined the biblical principles and responsibilities God ascribes to husbands, wives and parents, and showed how God dearly wants to save our families and has designed the family unit to accomplish this.

Into a godly marriage, in which both spouses maintain a total commitment to God and to each other, God places His children.

The parents’ foremost responsibility is to teach His children His righteous ways and to encourage His children to grow up to love Him and to ultimately embrace Him as their father.

God’s wisdom in His family design was repeatedly evident. If all do their part (parents and children),

God can save each one, for not only do the parents help save the children, but the children help save the parents. God’s wisdom is also evident when parents choose to make theirs a “Kingdom heading family.”

Such a single focus is instructive for the children at all ages and helps them to understand, as they mature, why members of a godly family hold themselves accountable to live by different standards (the standard of holiness) than families outside the community of believers.

The faithful parenting examples of Abraham and Hannah were also reviewed, as well as specific suggestions regarding methods to use for teaching our children.

Brother Jim Cowie – “The Kingdom Titles of our Lord Jesus Christ”

Our studies on “The Kingdom titles of the Lord Jesus Christ” was based on the five titles given to Christ in the Immanuel Prophecies of Isa. 9:6.

These were a wonderful source of inspiration to our Lord during his mortal ministry because every aspect of his mission both first and second advents is embraced.

We looked at how each of the Kingdom Age titles provided in Isa. 9:6 had its origins in the work of Christ’s first advent.

The truth of Heb. 13:8 – “Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever” became very evident as each title was explored. In the mind of his Father from “the foundation of the world”, miraculously conceived, strengthened to overcome what no other son of Adam has ever overcome, and raised from the dead to live for evermore, he truly was, and will forever be, a “miracle” (the meaning of the Hebrew word translated “Wonderful” in Isa. 9:6).

Similarly, we saw the titles “Counselor”, “the Mighty Warrior”, “the Father of the Age” and “the Prince of Peace,” while awaiting their complete fulfillment in the future Age also have origins in Christ’s first advent.

Teenagers

A few changes...

We are looking forward to seeing you all and enjoying another excellent Bible School together.

The committee have made a couple of changes recently which we wanted everyone to be aware of, both changes have been made with the end in mind of ensuring that all those who have booked in, benefit from the week together.

Day Visitors

To ensure that all those who book in for Bible School are able to participate fully, we have decided to fall in line with most other similar activities in asking that there be no day visitors. Whilst we would dearly love to accommodate and be with all of our brothers and sisters, there have been times when the attendance of day visitors has meant those attending cannot get a seat, particularly at the memorial meeting and at other times. Also the attendance of day visitors can affect the activities and operation of the week. To be fair to everyone, we have agreed to make it simple and ask that there be no day visitors.

Teenage accommodation and engagement

Please note also that Teenagers are always under the control and responsibility of their parents or guardians. The accommodation arrangements that will apply for teenagers 16 and over, is that they will be accommodated, wherever possible, near to their parents. As has always been the case anyone under 16 must be in the room of their parents. The second change that we have made is that both parent/ guardian as well as the teenager will be required to sign the expectations form.

We are always keen to make the Bible School a great family experience and always appreciate feedback on improvements.

Smile... You're on Camera!

Why don't you come and join us for...

- A fantastic week around the word of God three times a year.
- A time that provides spiritual education for all ages.
- A time where we can be encouraged, and give strength to others by our love and support.
- A great opportunity for a reasonably priced holiday experience for families.
- A time where we all enjoy a week of fellowship, unity and comfort.
